JOHN CURLEY TO DELIVER KEYNOTE AT 2014 NATIONAL STUDENT ELECTRONIC MEDIA CONVENTION

College Broadcasters, Inc. (CBI) announces Seattle broadcaster John Curley as keynote speaker for the 3rd annual National Student Electronic Media Convention on Saturday, Oct. 25.

Emmy award winner and 30-year veteran of television and radio, John Curley will share his personal formula for succeeding through difficulty and achieving career goals. You won't want to miss this high-energy, information filled session.

Curley hosted King 5 TV's Evening Magazine, the highest-rated regionally produced TV show in the country for fourteen years, and earned numerous local Emmy Awards and the Edward R. Morrow Award for Excellence in Journalism. His community coverage and unique view on the Pacific Northwest earned him the title of favorite "TV Guy" by the readers of Seattle Weekly, and he now continues his broadcast work as host of The Curley and Tom Morning Show on KIRO 97.3 FM. For more information about John Curley, visit <http://mynorthwest.com/category/tomandcurley> or follow him on Twitter @curleyseattle.

The 2014 NSEMC will be held at the Renaissance Seattle, Oct. 22-25, with three days of programming and interactive sessions led by broadcast professionals, student media advisers and students from college media outlets all over the country. The convention will also include intensive pre-convention workshops, a special NPR Next Generation Radio project and the announcement of the National Student Production Awards winners on Saturday, Oct. 25.

Additional information on the 2014 National Electronic Media Student Convention, including sessions, speakers, special programs, registration and more, is online at <http://www.askcbi.org/seattle>.
