College Broadcasters, Inc. Names Events Director

College Broadcasters, Inc.

CBI is proud to announce Jessica Clary as the organization's Events Director. Clary will be responsible for planning and scheduling the two annual major CBI events, the fall National Student Electronic Media Convention (NSEMC) and the summer College Media Mega Workshop.

CBI is a member-driven organization serving students and advisers of college and high school electronic media outlets. Through events, programs, and a network of expertise, CBI provides members with educational and professional opportunities and facilitates advocacy.

"We are very excited to have Jessica join us as Events Director," said John Morris, CBI President. "She brings a lot to the organization with her background in student media, professional experience, previous board experience, and a drive that will make her very successful. This is an exciting time as we look to what the future holds for CBI, media advisers, and students."

Clary is Assistant Director of Student Media at the Savannah College of Art and Design in Atlanta, Georgia where she advises daily operations of the online student newspaper, quarterly student magazine, and online student radio station. She is a longtime CBI member and served on the CBI Board of Directors as IT Content Director from 2012-2018. Clary grew up in a family that owned hotels and worked with contracts and conventions. Later she worked for a non-profit organization that planned two large events every year, acting as communications contact and assisting on-site.

The 2019 CBI National Student Electronic Media Convention will be held Oct. 30 – Nov. 2 in St. Louis, Missouri. CBI will also host a management track at the College Media Mega Workshop July 11-14 in Minneapolis, Minnesota.
